

*Director, Early Career Recruiting Program
JLL
Atlanta GA*

Crystal Brockington is an experienced talent acquisition professional specializing in designing and implementing campus recruiting strategies with an emphasis on diversity, equity, and inclusion. Throughout her career, she has had the opportunity to influence change through designing recruiting strategies, programming, and early career retention efforts. In her role at JLL, Crystal leads the Early Career Recruiting Specialist team which currently recruits for commercial real estate internship opportunities.

Crystal is graduate from Furman University with a Bachelor's in Communication Studies and Politics & International Studies. Since graduating, she is an active member of the young alumni council. Crystal has a Master's in Human Resources Management with a concentration in diversity & inclusion management. In her spare time, she enjoys exploring new restaurants in the Atlanta area.